SIR KINGSLEY WOOD HEADS AIR MINISTRY IN CABINET SHUFFLE

Minister of Health Succeeds Lord Swinton—Malcolm MacDonald Moved From Dominions to Colonial Office—Lord Stanley Promoted to Dominions Post in Series of Changes

LONDON, May 16 (P).—Prime Minister Chamberlain today announced a new Cabinet line-up with the unexpected selection of Sir Kingsley Wood to head a reorganized Air Ministry. Bowing to a storm of criticism from Parliament and press, the Prime Minister accepted Viscount Swinton's resignation as Air Secretary and chose the hard-working, business-like Minister of Health to succeed him.

Then, as Lord Harlech resigned from the Colonial Office, the Prime Minister appointed Malcolm MacDonald to that post; promoted Lord Stanley, hitherto a junior minister, to the Dominions office, to succeed Mr. MacDonald; gave the Ministry of Health to Walter Elliot, former Secretary of State for Scotland, and raised Lieut.-Col. D. J. Colville to the Cabinet to succeed Mr. Elliot. A number of changes among the under-secretaries also were announced.

TAKE OATH OF OFFICE

The new ministers tonight went to Buckingham Palace where, following historic custom, each received his seal of office, took the oath and kissed the King's hand.

Chief issue in last week's bitter debate in the Commons on the air ministry was its charged failure to match Germany's air production. But the fact the Secretary for Air was in the House of Lords has been a source of irritation for months.

Sir Kingsley Wood is expected to seek the active co-operation of Viscount Nuffield as the first step toward expanding air production. Lord Nuffield, wealthy automobile

IS NAMED HIGH COMMISSIONER

Sir Gerald Campbell to Represent United Kingdom in Canada

LONDON, May 16 (P).—Appointment of Sir Gerald Campbell, for eight years British Consul-General in New York, as High Commissioner for the United Kingdom in Canada, was announced today.

Sir Gerald, 54, is Sir Francis Flood, appointed chairman of the Bengal Land Revenue Commission, which is to attempt to find a settlement for that Indian province's 145-year-old agrarian problem.

Sir Gerald will take up his duties at Ottawa in the autumn, becoming the third person to hold the office of High Commissioner since it was created in 1928.

KNIGHTED IN 1934

Sir Gerald Campbell was knighted in the birthday honors of King George V in 1934. During his term of office in New York he had enjoyed great popularity, entering with enthusiasm into the life of the city. Prior to his appointment to New York, in succession to the late Sir Harry Golder Armstrong, he was Consul-General at San Francisco and Philadelphia.

Sir Gerald was appointed vice-consul at Venice in 1913 and two years later was transferred to Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, where he remained during the civil disorders caused by the attempt of Emperor Haile Selassie to force the country to espouse the cause of Germany and Turkey in the Great War. Twice he served as charge d'affaires in the Ethiopian capital.

Thieves Ransack Office Building

VANCOUVER, May 16 (P).—Running water tonight led police to discover the theft of desks, chairs and filing cabinets from a Hamilton Street building once used by the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. Investigating reports of neighbors that water was running continually in the building, officers found the place ransacked. The burglars left the water from the severed sink pipes running.

Flames Turn Hotel Into Merciless Trap of Death In Early Morning Hours

Twenty-Seven Dead and Score Are Missing After Overwhelming Blaze

SEVERAL KILLED IN JUMPS TO GROUND

ATLANTA, May 16 (P).—A pre-dawn fire, that turned the thirty-year-old Terminal Hotel into a flaming horror in ten minutes, killed twenty-seven persons and left a score more missing or injured today. The hotel register was lost and engineers estimated it might take two days before the wreckage was cleared and the full toll determined.

The blaze broke out in the basement of the five-story brick and frame building about 3 a.m. when most of its guests were asleep. Flames and smoke shot skyward and in a moment every floor was ablaze.

DEADLIEST IN HISTORY

Described as "the deadliest in the history of Atlanta," the fire completely enveloped the building. A dozen or more were rescued or leaped to safety before the roof collapsed, plunging debris through charred floors to the basement and cutting off hope of survival for any who were trapped.

Several were killed in leaping from upper storey windows of the flaming building, and Police Chief M. A. Hornsby expressed belief ten

Police Dog Proves to Be Cougar

NANAIMO, May 16. — Eleven-year-old Norman Ballance, of East Wellington, and his fox terrier, Billy, on Saturday evening treed a cougar. Norman's father shot the animal, and today collected a $200 bounty. Norman and his dog saw what the boy thought was a big police dog worrying a calf 200 yards from the Ballance home. Norman threw rocks, the beast ran, and the terrier chased it up a tree. The dog kept it up the tree until Norman had run to the house for his father, who secured his gun and killed the cougar, which measured 6 feet 8 inches from nose to tip of the tail.

MEXICO CITY, May 16 (P).—Six persons were wounded seriously today in clashes at the University of Mexico, where Rightist and Leftist groups battled with pistols and knives for possession of four buildings.

The outbreak was the most recent development in growing tension between representatives of the country's two extremes of political thought. Several hundred armed members of "Socialist youth" groups before dawn seized possession of the main university building, the preparatory school and the schools of commerce

Reports Progress on Building of Pacific Coast Fortifications

OTTAWA, May 16 (P).—Defence Minister Mackenzie gave the House of Commons today a progress report on construction of Pacific Coast fortifications. The York battery was "completed and the guns in place. The Albert Head emplacement would be finished by July, and other defences in the neighborhood by the end of the year. The Stanley Park works were expected to be completed in June. The air base on Queen Charlotte Island would be finished this summer. A seaplane base near Prince Rupert and a site for batteries in the northern area of the province, would be proceeded with this year.

A survey has been completed on the Pacific Coast of the possibility of establishing a fishermen's naval reserve. A similar survey will be started in the Maritimes. It was not expected to put the scheme into operation until next winter. No definite scheme had been settled, but it was expected the training period would be a month. The survey showed 200 fishermen on the Pacific Coast would enlist.

Attitude of Government on Alaska Road Negotiations To Be Announced Later

OTTAWA, May 16 (P).—The National Defence Department has been watching closely all reports of development associated with the proposed United States-to-Alaska highway through British Columbia. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Defence Minister, told the House of Commons today. Any attitude the Federal Government might take would be made known later, the Minister said.

Howard Green (Con., Vancouver South) referred to newspaper reports on this project and said the United States authorities clearly admitted it was for military purposes. He asked if the department or Government had "paid any attention" to these reports or given the project any consideration.

"I have a very alert staff," the Minister said, "who study all these reports, and on several occasions they have been brought to the attention of the Minister."

"In other words," said Mr. Green, "the staff read the newspapers."

"I may tell by honorable friend," the Minister replied, "that it is the first duty of any intelligent staff to read all the newspapers."

Thousands of Japanese Troops Converging for Attack on Vital Point

SHANGHAI, May 17 (P).—Two hundred thousand Japanese converged from all sides, today on Suchoo, with one force of the invaders poised for a direct attack on the vital railroad junction.

Japanese troops fighting from the Southwest reported they were within ten miles of Suchoo, 330 miles northwest of Shanghai, and that it was "only a matter of hours" before they would unlimber their guns on the city itself.

The commander of this force said Chinese defences about the strategic city were clearly visible from his newly-won position on a low mountain range near the Suchoo-Siaohsin Highway. Inside the lightning Japanese movement were, it was estimated, 240,000 Chinese defenders seeking desperately to stave off the fall of the communications centre of the Central China war front.

Spread over a forty-mile radius were Japanese, whose spokesmen declared the Chinese must now "surrender or perish."

CHINESE VERSION

Sharply challenging them, Chinese army spokesmen in Hankow said the Japanese were still "remote both in strength and distance" from the East-West Lung-hai railway, which crosses the North-South Tientsin-Pukow line at Suchoo.

The Chinese denied Japanese reports the Lung-hai had been cut, although the spokesman said the defenders were "fighting with their backs to the railway."

Japanese advisers said the Lung-hai was severed at Tangshan, west of Suchoo, and at Sinachen to the east.

The present situation was the outcome of a long battle, it was said.

Beaux-Arts Society Presents Play at Dominion Drama Festival

WINNIPEG, May 16 (P).—Barrett H. Clark, New York critic, told a record-breaking Dominion Drama Festival audience tonight he was "amazed at the uniformly high standard of production" shown in the three short plays produced on opening night here.

Clark praised the skill of Toronto's Theatre of Action in building drama and a fine climax into their excerpt from the three-act play, "Steel."

Victoria Beaux-Arts Society did "on the whole a smooth bit of acting and direction in 'Hands Across the Sea,'" said Clark. The Yorkton Little Theatre production of "A Bite of the Apple" was "good, competent, acting," Clark added.

APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE

The appreciative capacity audience, including Governor-General Tweedsmuir, was welcomed by W. L. MacTavish, president of the Manitoba Regional Festival committee.

Noel Coward's satirical play proved an amusing vehicle for the Beaux-Arts Society. Mrs. E. W. Hetherington, president of the festival, presided.

OFFICERS LOSE TWO PRISONERS

Men Escape From Van When Stop Made at Busy Corner

EDMONTON, May 16 (P).—Two prisoners escaped from a Royal Canadian Mounted Police van in downtown Edmonton tonight, and gained their freedom after a race through a crowd emerging from a theatre, a run down a short side street, and a sixty-foot slide down a steep bank to the North Saskatchewan River Valley.

Names of the escaped pair were given as Victor Ashton, alias Jack Simpson, eighteen, and a Robert James McGrath, alias Robert Williams, seventeen. Ashton, they said, stands 6 ft. 1 in. in height.

PRISONER SHOUTS WARNING

R.C.M.P. said a third prisoner, riding in the van, had shouted a warning that the pair had escaped after the van had been stopped at Jasper Avenue and 97th Street, one of the city's busiest corners. Investigation, they said, showed the lock had been jammed.

Police said the pair had pleaded guilty a week ago on a charge of breaking and entering stores at Wetaskiwin and Millet, and were being taken to the R.C.M.P. barracks to be held overnight, awaiting sentencing tomorrow.

VANCOUVER MILL SWEEP BY FIRE

Other Plants Endangered When Flames Raze $100,000 Plant On Sunday Night

VANCOUVER, May 16 (P).—T. A. Lamb, vice-president of the False Creek Lumber Company, said tonight no decision had been made to rebuild part of the company's plant destroyed in a Sunday night fire with an estimated damage of over $100,000.

The company official said it was "too early yet" to consider plans for rebuilding the engine-room, saw-mill and part of the planing mill destroyed in the two-alarm blaze of unknown origin.

Fanned by a strong wind, the flames endangered other mills and plants situated nearby along the False Creek shore.

Firemen, aided by the fireboat J. H. Carline, brought the blaze under control within an hour, but remained for another two "mopping up."

Says Canada Must Be Responsible for Her Own Defences

Lieut.-Col. H. G. Letson Tells Chamber of Commerce Dominion Should Not Look to Other Nations for Protection in Time of Trouble

"CANADA is an independent nation and must assume responsibility for its own defence, although we may expect a measure of support from other members of the British Commonwealth," Lieut.-Col. H. G. Letson, Officer Commanding the Fourteenth Brigade at Vancouver, said in addressing the annual meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce held in Spencer's dining-room yesterday.

Colonel Letson was speaking on the defence problems in Canada and the necessity of educating public opinion to the fact that enlistment in the non-permanent militia was a prime necessity at this time.

"If we expect aid, we must give aid in return. We could not sit by and see Australia invaded or London become a second Barcelona. We assert our independence, but rely on other nations for defence," the colonel stated.

"In my opinion the greatest detriment to us today is the rearmament programme of Great Britain," he continued. Colonel Letson compared the strength of Canadian forces with those of Great Britain on a per capita basis, pointing out that the Dominion had no regular army to take the shock of a first offensive drive; the permanent force serving as instructors to the citizen army.

LOW PER CAPITA COST

The per capita cost for defence in Canada was about $3.15, the total levy for defence being $34,000,000. If Canada were united with the United States the citizens would pay on $124,000,000 and Great Britain $344,000,000 in proportion, or $38 per

SEEKS SUPPORT FOR UNIVERSITY

David Carey, Rhodes Scholar, Tells Gyros Investments Are Repaid

"The university should be wide open to anyone who wants to study there; we don't want a small-town university for the sons of rich men only," declared David Carey, University of British Columbia Rhodes Scholar, and president of the University of British Columbia, in an address to the Gyro Club in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

Mr. Carey addressed the meeting for the purpose of explaining the work and aims of the university, and of enlisting support for it, and he adduced evidence to show that the money invested in the university was returning dividends. He told of the standards set and the tributes paid to the university by many prominent persons, and mentioned that students of the University of British Columbia had won more scholarships than those of any other university in Canada, having taken thirty-five, as compared with McGill's forty-eight.

PLACE IN MINING

More University of British Columbia graduates had obtained doctor's degrees in geology than had those of any other university, the speaker said, and still more were needed by the mining industry of the province. The great development of mining in the province was largely in the hands of the young men of the University of British Columbia, and if it could continue to produce the type of men the province needed, it would be fulfilling its vocation.

"We are repaying the time and trouble the people are giving to us," Mr. Carey asserted. "If you hear stories of frivolous pastimes and time frittered away, please attribute it to a small part of the student body. That isn't the attitude of the great majority of the students."

HISTORY OR UNIVERSITY

Mr. Carey reviewed the history of the university in Vancouver, and told of the great amount of effort and money expended by the students themselves, mentioning that the students, by contributions and bond issues, had paid for $140,000 worth of buildings at the campus. Since 1925, he said, no buildings had been erected at Point Grey except those contributed by the students.

The speaker was introduced by Major Cuthbert Holmes, and the vote of thanks was proposed by Everett Taylor, president.

come of what foreign military observers freely termed an "amazing" Japanese advance from south of the Lunghai railway to break the stalemate in which the Chinese had appeared to be gaining the advantage.

The turning point came a week ago. Then the Japanese, with fully 200 warplanes blazing away, began a tremendous air campaign against Chinese communications and munitions centres.

TAKEN BY SURPRISE

The heavily reinforced Japanese army south of the Lunghai next launched a well-organized drive, which, judging from the speed of its advance, took the Chinese by surprise.

With Japan's navy diverting attention from the Lunghai by landing at Amoy, on the southeast coast of China, Japanese columns suddenly smashed eastward through Anhwei Province and captured Mencheng, eighty miles south of Suchow, which is in Kiangsu Province.

From Mencheng these columns, which, the Chinese said, utilized 100 swift tanks, raced forty miles northward in three days and captured Yungcheng.

This placed them in a strategic position for a drive against the Lunghai railway at Langshan and against Suchow itself. Simultaneously, the Japanese drove from the north side of the Lunghai through West Shantung Province to meet the column coming up from Yungcheng.

Ordinarily the Dominion portfolio is considered a more responsible office than that of Colonies. But the gravity of problems confronting the Colonial Office at present render it important.

Malcolm MacDonald, who solved the long-standing Anglo-Eire quarrel, faces the thorny problem of partition of Palestine. Germany's demands for return of her pre-war colonies is another problem that lies ahead and predictions were heard Mr. MacDonald may find the Colonial Office a stepping stone toward the Foreign Office.

Mr. Colville's promotion to the Cabinet was considered merited for his hard work in various offices, which included financial secretary to the Treasury and under-secretary for Scotland.

lines official, his wife and two children. Mrs. Carl Squier, wife of a Lockheed official.

Sid Willey, Lockheed test pilot, in charge of the plane.

Miss Dingle, Northwest Airlines employee.

Miss Lolo Totley.

Lockheed officials expressed a belief that the plane possibly was down in the rugged Mint Canyon area to the east of Burbank. They said forest service employees on Mount Gleason, some fifteen miles from the airport, reported they heard a plane at 2 p.m., flying above the clouds at an estimated altitude of 9,000 feet.

WEATHER WAS FOGGY

That would place the plane on its course and at the usual flying altitude. At that time the weather in the Mint Canyon area was foggy, with broken clouds from 2,000 feet to 6,000 or 8,000 feet. At the same time the weather on the desert to the eastward on the course to Las Vegas was clear.

Lockheed officials theorized that the pilot might have descended through the clouds to check his course by familiar landmarks, and crashed against a mountain peak.

Pilot L. D. Carlson, of Western Air Express, who took off on a regularly scheduled flight from Union Air Terminal shortly before the missing plane departed, said he kept in radio contact with Pilot Willey and last heard from him when Willey was in the vicinity of the north end of Mint Canyon.

PREPARE TO SEARCH

A searching party, including nearly two dozen airplanes of the sheriff's aero squadron and available airline ships, was prepared to leave at dawn to search for the missing plane.

FINE OF $100 IN MOTOR CASE

Jagir Singh Found Guilty of Charge of Driving to Common Danger

Found guilty of a charge of driving to the common danger on September 11, 1937, Jagir Singh was fined $100, or in default ten days in prison, by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in the city police court yesterday morning. The accused was given two days in which to pay the fine.

The charge arose from an accident on Douglas Street, between Kings Road and Millside Avenue. An automobile driven by Jagir Singh struck and fatally injured Mrs. Ernest Rattan, 2633 Graham Street. Banta Singh, who testified at the hearing on Saturday morning, was recalled to the stand by Magistrate Hall. He described the accident through an interpreter, stating that he was a passenger in the front seat of Jagir Singh's car. Gurnam Singh also testified for the defence.

GIVES UP DRIVING

Questioned by P. J. Sinnott, his counsel, Jagir Singh stated he had not driven an automobile since the accident. He told the magistrate that he saw Mrs. Rattan crossing the street, put his brakes on, turned to the left, and next saw her lying on the pavement before he ran into a telephone pole.

When the magistrate was informed the brakes on the automobile were in good shape, he commented that evidence showed the machine traveled sixty feet after striking Mrs. Rattan.

Mr. Sinnott contended there was no evidence to establish an element of carelessness against the accused. He declared that Mrs. Rattan became confused and stepped back into the path of Jagir Singh's car when another machine in front nearly struck her.

First Shot Fired by Saanich Candidates For Board Vacancies

By-Election Campaign for Trusteeships Opened at Meeting in Ward Four—Former Trustees Explain Reasons for Resignation

THE six candidates for the by-election on Saturday to fill the two vacant seats on the Saanich School Board opened their campaigns last night, when they addressed a meeting of about fifty electors of Ward Four, held in the Marigold Hall. John Warnock was voted to the chair.

W. A. KETTLE

W. A. Kettle advocated sound education and vocational training to fit the children for their position in life, and strongly advocated British justice in all matters coming before the board. If elected, he promised to do his best for the children and the ratepayers, and declared his belief that the latter should "know everything" that went on in the board meetings.

W. J. LYNN

This attitude was taken also by W. J. Lynn, who asserted that the two council candidates were being "used" in an effort to do away with the school board entirely and have the schools administered by the council.

J. W. HIGHAM

J. W. Higham spoke of his previous experience in school board administration, and declared his policy to promote the welfare and efficiency of the education system. He maintained that the council and the board should be separate bodies, with separate functions, and expressed opposition to council control of education.

FORMER TRUSTEE

By the unanimous request of the meeting, former Trustees A. E. Hull and William Tomes addressed the electors at considerable length on the reasons for their resignation. Both speakers vehemently asserted that the late secretary had been summarily dismissed without justifiable reason, and declared that at the meeting at which the resolution of dismissal was passed, no specific charges were made against the late secretary by either Trustee Stanley F. Miles or M. D. Dawson.

Mr. Hull stated that before the dismissal, Trustee Miles had written to the secretary stating that if the secretary would do as he (Trustee Miles) said, his job would be secure. Mr. Tomes declared that an honorable man could not remain on the board after the actions of the other members.

R. G. SHANKS

R. G. Shanks maintained that it was time that younger men took an active interest in the welfare of the community and that the electors were looking for new blood in the school board. He criticized the action of the council in according to the request of the board of trade,

No, he never had a large income—but he had a savings plan that worked!

ACQUAINTANCES wonder "how he did it." He always had just an average job—a moderate income—yet now, while still young enough to enjoy life, he can retire. He and his wife are taking a long trip. After that they'll settle where they like because they have an independent monthly income.

You do not have to have a large income in order to make a financial success of your life. If you have thirty, twenty, or even fifteen years of earning power ahead of you, you can be financially independent in your later years even on a moderate salary.

But you must have a saving plan that makes saving easy and sure. The Imperial Life offers such a plan. The advantage of The Imperial Life way over other methods of saving is that, by it you actually do save just what you plan. An Imperial Life policy adapted to your needs will provide for your dependents in case of your death, or for yourself after your retirement.

"FINANCIAL SECURITY THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE," by Paul Speicher, an international authority, is an interesting book which should be read by everyone who plans to provide financial security for himself and family. Your local Imperial Life representative will make a copy available to you without cost.

Responsibilities of National Leadership Is Keynote of Rally

Youth of Victoria Gather at Royal Athletic Park On Sunday and Hear Addresses on Citizenship—Estimate 2,000 Attended ENERGY and enthusiasm was typified by the 2,000 or more nation builders of the future when they gathered at Royal Athletic Park Sunday afternoon for the Empire Youth Rally, which was held under the auspices of the Victoria committee of the National Council of Education of Canada. Similar meetings were held in various parts of Canada.

The speaker of the occasion, was Dr. Daniel Buchanan, dean of the faculty of arts and science at the University of British Columbia, who spoke from the subject, "The Frontiers of Youth." To train for citizenship and then offer that training in the service of the country was the keynote of the address.

NATIONAL LEADERS

Dr. Buchanan said many difficult problems faced democratic governments in these anxious times, but he believed there was too great a tendency to criticize officials of government in both Canada and the United States, which made younger men hesitant about assuming the responsibilities of national leadership.

The chairman of the meeting was Albert Sullivan, the head of the Victoria committee of the National Council of Education, who introduced the dean, and in his introductory remarks referred to the address to youth given by Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, then Prime Minister of England, on May 18 last year. The address was made in Royal Albert Hall, London. It was from that address that the Empire Youth Movement sprang. The organization is devoted to the interests of the youth of today and dedicated to high purpose and public service.

Attend Gathering at John Dean Park

Representatives of several organizations and many visitors from the city attended the picnic gathering arranged by the North Saanich and Sidney Island Provincial Parks Board at John Dean Park, Mount Newton, on Saturday afternoon, to afford an opportunity for inspection of the improvements recently carried out at the beautiful park given to the Province by Mr. Dean. In the above picture, taken at the shady picnic ground, Mr. Dean (third from the right, front row) is seen with a group of members of the Parks Board and representatives of other organizations. On Mr. Dean's left is F. J. Baker, chairman of the board, who was largely responsible for the arrangement of the outing.

youth from Hon. Eric Hamber, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, who was unable to attend owing to a prior engagement having been made to be present at the rally in Vancouver. In one part of his address, the Lieutenant-Governor said: "I know you have already realized what it is that you are gathered together today, and I am sure, as future men and women of this province who will ultimately have to assume the burdens of government, office and home, when those of us who are older arrive at the time when we must lay down our duties, you will realize the responsibilities that will rest upon your shoulders, and how important is the part that you must play in the future of this province, of the Dominion and of the whole British Empire."

TELL OF SERVICES

Three of the six young ladies who were representatives from Greater Victoria at the youth services in Albert Hall and Westminster Abbey, during the Coronation celebrations, spoke briefly on their experiences and impressions at these services. Miss Geraldine Percival, Oak Bay High School, and Miss Ellen O'Connell, Mount View High School, gave the highlights of Mr. Baldwin's address at Albert Hall. Their enthusiasm over the former Premier's speech and the magnitude of the rally was clearly evident in their accounts. Miss Aimee O'Heddie, who represented the Victoria High School, described in detail the brilliant and impressive service in Westminster Abbey.

Miss Elizabeth Angus, St. Margaret's School; Miss Anne Ride-well, Norfolk House School, and Miss Dorothy Duncan, of Duncan, were the other three who attended the Coronation, on the platform.

The hymns, "Jerusalem," "The Children's Song" and "Unto the Hills," were sung, accompanied by George H. E. Green and the Victoria Boys' Band.

William T. Patterson, Local Real Estate Dealer, Passes Suddenly at His Home

William T. Patterson, well-known business man of this city, died suddenly at his home, 1171 Chapman Street, on Saturday evening. He was fifty-eight years old.

Born in Omagh, County Tyrone, Ireland, Mr. Patterson came to Victoria twenty-six years ago and for the past fifteen years had been head of the Patterson Realty Company.

He was a valued member of the Victoria Male Choir and the Centennial Church Choir here, and of the A.F. & A.M. in Ireland. Of the first mentioned he was a charter member.

Mr. Patterson is survived by his wife, at the family residence; two brothers and two sisters, in Ireland, and three cousins, Alex, Sam and Ross, of Saanichton.

20 YEARS OF STOMACH PAIN! Resisted Every Treatment

Is your case like that of Mr. Joseph Kelly, London? For 20 years he suffered acutely from stomach trouble. Indigestion, wind, sick stomach and those pains and discomforts familiar to you if you suffer from stomach trouble proved unquenchable. "I had tried all sorts of remedies—Bismuth Tablets, Magnesia and so-called Maclean powders," he writes, "but since I obtained a bottle of the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder I have had no indigestion or sickness of the stomach."

PROVINCE WILL PRESS APPEAL

Adverse Decision on Provincial Statute Will Be Carried Higher

The British Columbia Government will go through with the appeal in the Victoria refunding issue, irrespective of whatever action the city may take in the case, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. Notice of appeal has been filed, and will be spoken to at the present term of the Appeal Court, opening today in Vancouver. From the Provincial Government's standpoint, the city refunding measure was only one of five statutes presented to the Legislature as public bills by Ministers of the Crown. An adverse judgment on one statute may affect the status of the others, and to clear up this point the Province agreed to join with the city in its appeal from the Supreme Court ruling.

H. A. Maclean, K.C., city counsel in the case, is acting also for the Provincial Government. Until the Appeal Court opens today, the date of the actual hearing will not be known.

Building Campaign Is to Be Fostered By City Committee

Aldermen W. H. Davies and B. J. Gadsden Suggest Advantages of Home Construction Here Be Made Subject of Intensive Drive Next Month

A "BUILD Your Home in the City of Victoria" campaign suggested to the City Council last night by Aldermen W. H. Davies and B. J. Gadsden, was discussed with enthusiasm. On the motion of Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan, the matter was referred to the lands committee for action.

Alderman Davies suggested that the drive be held in June, organized by a special committee selected by Mayor Andrew McGavin. He outlined plans for an advertising campaign and prizes totaling $200 for school children's essays, suggested that the Real Estate Board, the Victoria Builders' Exchange, Ltd., and other organizations be asked to co-operate, and that home owners be urged to clean up and beautify their dwellings and gardens.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar gave a brief report of the lands committee's efforts to dispose of reverted property. He stated his committee had for a slogan, "It is just as cheap and much better to build within the city limits than in outside municipalities."

TO ATTEND MEETINGS

Alderman Davies was invited to attend a lands committee meeting at 3:30, Thursday afternoon, and was commended by Alderman John A. Worthington for his interest.

On the motion of Alderman S. H. O'Neil, the council passed a resolution of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Waddell for their public-spiritedness in allowing public inspection of their garden at "Inglebrook," on Maplewood Road.

Sale of a lot for $376.14, on the south side of Grant Street, between Camosun and Chambers Street, was confirmed. The finance committee was asked to confer with fire-insurance agents with reference to placing limited amounts of insurance on reverted property which the lands committee was desirous of protecting.

Authority was given the parks committee to spend $300 on improvements in Beacon Hill Park, $80 at Gonzales Beach, and $26, at the James Bay playground.

Following discussion on Summer hours for the City Hall, Alderman John A. Worthington moved an amendment to an amendment that the matter be referred to the finance committee for a report. The committee will discuss the matter next Monday afternoon.

BUY NEW TRUCK

It was decided to purchase a one-ton truck from the Motor House (Victoria), Ltd., for $677 net. The city yard will build a lower ladder for the truck at a cost of $275. At a cost of $2,189, the city engineer was instructed to carry out storm sewer work on Crescent Road. The public works committee was asked to investigate corner improvements on Hollywood Crescent.

Hearty thanks were extended to the Pro Patria Branch, Canadian Legion, for the members' interest in the Aged and Infirm Men's Home.

Fire wardens reported that the driver of a fire truck involved in an accident at Yates Street and Fernwood Road had been exonerated of all blame. Instructions were given to remove an electric light pole at the northeast corner to another location.

A tender of David Spencer, Ltd., to supply seventy-seven firemen's caps for $195.12 was accepted. A tender of G. H. Bissell to make uniforms for the fire department for $2,534.50 was also accepted. Tenders for removing hay from property at Elk Lake were referred to the water board.

TO ERECT POLE

Tenders to erect a 165-foot flagpole in Beacon Hill Park were ordered returned unopened. Alderman James Adam, chairman of the parks committee, announced that Mayo Singh, of the Kapoor Lumber Co., had offered to erect the pole at his own expense, for which the council expressed its thanks.

SPENDTHRIFT TAXATION

In 1910 Toronto's tax rate was 17.5 mills, and the collections averaged $13.50 a person; in 1918 the rate was 30.5 mills, and the collections averaged $31 a person. In 1928 the rate was up to 31.80, with the average collection being approximately $48 a person. The new mill rate set, that of 3.605 per cent of assessed valuation, is the highest on record. In twenty years civic taxation has risen by $20 per person, and The Toronto Globe and Mail asks: "Is the service received worth $20 a year more to each member of your family?" The answer to the question is found in stagnation in the building trades, in the refusal of so many citizens to become home-owners, in sacrifice sales of property, in a lowering standard of civic pride.

Not long ago Mr. J. L. Halsey, the Minister of National Revenue, said that no one realizes the imperative necessity of economy to a greater extent than those whose business it is to collect taxes. Of course, the answer to this is a simple one; it is the tax-collecting authority that alone has the privilege and the responsibility of keeping taxes down. It is not only municipal taxation that has exceeded the limits of necessary services, but Federal and Provincial taxation as well. It is no excuse to say that sectional pressure is the cause of excessive expenditure; if it is, then taxation authorities do not encourage economy. Toronto has been spending too much; so have most of the municipal administrations throughout the country. The Federal Government and every Provincial Government have been engaging in wanton expenditures, spending, as well as current revenues, what they can borrow, and then bawling their plight when the day of reckoning arrives. No governmental authority throughout the country has yet begun to put those economies into effect which are a crying necessity of the time if the future is to be faced with equanimity.

A GREAT CANADIAN

A few months hence Winnipeg will pay honor to the memory of the first white man to look upon the site of the future capital of the Prairie Province. On September 24, 1738, Pierre Gaultier, better known as La Verendrye, Canadian-born Frenchman, seigneur, farmer, fur-trader, soldier of fortune, explorer, empire builder, discoverer, reached "the Forks" of the Assiniboine after an arduous and dangerous journey by way of Rainy River, the Lake of the Woods, Winnipeg River, Lake Winnipeg, and the Red River.

La Verendrye first saw the light of day in 1685 at the seigneurie of Varennes, near Three Rivers, in Lower Canada. He was one of nine children born to Rene Gaultier, a lieutenant of the famous Carignan-Sallieres regiment. His mother was Marie Boucher, daughter of the Governor of Three Rivers. The life of a Canadian seigneur in the seventeenth century was not a life of ease and luxury. He was compelled to work hard and live simply. The duty of clearing the land lay on gentry and habitant alike. Rents were low. When the habitant went to the seigneur's house on St. Martin's Day he carried with him perhaps a sack or two of wheat, or some eggs, or a few live fowl, and a small trifle of money. The log houses were roughly built, the furniture was scanty, food was simple at best and not always plentiful in war time. During the early childhood of Pierre the tenor of life was uneven enough owing to the ups and downs of the fur trade and the conduct of hostile Indians. He could remember the scenes of rejoicing which welcomed Frontenac on his return to Canada. He was seven years old when Madeleine de Vercheres, a girl of fourteen, conducted her heroic defence of the fort of Vercheres with a garrison of two soldiers, a hired man servant, one refugee settler, her two young brothers, and a man of eighty. He was eleven when Frontenac set out on his last campaign against the dreaded Iroquois. When he was nineteen Pierre marched to the New England wars. At twenty he took part in a campaign in Newfoundland. At twenty-two he crossed the sea, entered the French army, fought at the sanguinary battle of Malplaquet, was nine times wounded, and left for dead on the field. His valor was rewarded, his name being mentioned in the orders of the day, and he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant. Without the means to support his rank in the army, he resigned and returned to Canada with the rank of ensign. He married at twenty-six, settled on his fief at Gabelle, farming and trading, and remained there till 1727, when at the age of forty-two he was appointed by Vaudreuil to take charge of a group of trading posts in the Nipigon country.

On the strength of his trading monopoly, La Verendrye induced some Montreal merchants to join with him in a trading adventure. This was in 1731. La Verendrye was well aware of the difficulties of his enterprise. He had to establish friendly relations with the Western Indians, and he had to solve the problem of how to divert the Northern trade now steadily flowing towards the English forts on Hudson's Bay. He set out with fifty men, his three sons, a nephew, and a devoted priest. Within six years he had built three forts, one at Rainy Lake, one at the North-West Angle, and one at the mouth of the Winnipeg River. In 1736 he was called upon to suffer a heavy blow. A raiding party of Sioux fell upon a company of his men commanded by his eldest son, and massacred the entire number. This cruel stroke fell upon him at a critical moment. He was just preparing to enter the prairie country, his men were discouraged and apprehensive, his means reduced, his business associates dissatisfied. However, he pushed on, ascended the Red, and at last reached the mouth of the Assiniboine, where he found ten Cree lodges with two chiefs. Leaving his lieutenant to build Fort Rouge, he hurried on to what is now Portage la Prairie and established Fort Le Reine there, obviously a strategic point at which to carry on the fur trade, because it commanded all the Assiniboine and Souris country. It was from Fort La Reine that La Verendrye made his famous journey into the heart of the prairie country. On the 18th of October he left to visit the Mandans, a seated tribe near the Missouri. In 1739 he built Forts Bourbon and Dauphin. He made great efforts to establish peace between the warlike Sioux and their Northern enemies, the Crees and Assiniboines, but soon had to return to Montreal to answer two contradictory charges, one that he was neglecting the fur trade in order to carry on exploration, the other that he was neglecting exploration in order to carry on the grade of captain and received the Cross of the Military Order of St. Louis. He did not long enjoy these honors, but died before the year was out.

La Verendrye does not belong exclusively to our fellow-subjects of French speech and race. It is true that he lived his whole life under the flag of France; but he was a Canadian born and bred, and there were no bounds set to his devotion to his native country.

AS GOOD AS HIS BOND

The phrase is often used in a complimentary sense to suggest a high standard of honesty, and certainly the man whose word is at least as good as his bond is a very valuable member of society. There is something truly admirable in the character of the man who, when he has once given his word, feels that he is somehow "bound" to carry out his undertaking. When he says he is in honor bound to do so and so, he means that in a sense he is no longer a free agent. To give one's word is in fact to enter voluntarily into bonds of a very rigid character. When, therefore, it is suggested that a man's word should be something better than his bond the meaning seems to be that a merely legal bond is after all "no very great matter." A man may execute a legal undertaking with a penalty clause in case of failure or default. You can sue a man on his bond, and you may exact the forfeiture; but if all you have to depend upon is his bare word, he ought to feel doubly bound to implement his undertaking, if for no other reason than that he has not provided you with any legal redress against him.

It is hazardous, of course, to attempt to draw rigidly dividing lines between moral and intellectual qualities, for they are very similar at bottom; yet it is worth while, to remind ourselves that the commercial honesty that impels a merchant or a manufacturer to fulfill the terms of a contract to the very letter, which gives full measure for every bushel, supplies materials of the very highest degree of quality, and maintains the soundest standards of workmanship, may be merely the policy of a highly intelligent person who knows by experience that inferior quality or inferior workmanship does not pay. The distinction between honesty as an excellent policy and honesty as an inescapable duty has long been a prime favorite in youthful debating societies and a very excellent topic it is. It calls attention to the fundamental difference between expediency and duty, between outward and visible conformity and an inward and spiritual grace. Nor should we fail to recognize that as there is a close affinity between intellect and will, there is an equally close association between the moral sense and the sense of beauty. Frequently it is a sense of beauty that inspires a man to do his work as well, both the unseen and the seen, make the house where Gods may dwell beautiful, entire, and clean.

"Every little town seems to have a new enthusiasm, a new theatre and a desire to put a good play into it," says Miss Helen Hayes, the actress. Perhaps all this is due to the growing desire of people to dramatize themselves.

He who receives a good turn should never forget it; he who does one should never remember it.—Charron.

It is a hard but good law of fate, that as every evil, so every excessive power, wears itself out.—Herder.

Note and Comment

by Sandham Graves

In defence of "village politics." Often the phrase is flung superciliously by those who have grown too big for the village in which they live. Yet, when you come to think of it, there are hardly enough people in all British Columbia yet to make one fair-sized city. It is, perhaps, a little case of the big frog in a small pond; where even a dismal croak seems like a swelling operatic number. Do not let anyone sing you down on the score of "village politics." Villages have much to commend them. The villagers know, for instance, where the pump is and how it works. They seldom need to prime it. When there is no water in the well, they do not blame the pump. When it stands in disrepair they fix it. Then, take the village constable. Villagers know the law as well as he does. He could no more invent a new law on Tuesday and enforce it on Wednesday, than a horse. Villagers may be rustic, but when they need a horse shoe they go to the blacksmith, who knows how to shoe horses; not to a dentist or to an undertaker, who have their proper missions. A village is such a small place, in fact, that nobody gets very far with a bluff. It is only when a village tries to become a metropolis that the trouble starts. Its ideas then outrun its wisdom. Its desire outstrips its purse. It enters the dangerous path of emulation, and compares itself to international centres of world trade. The term "village" becomes opprobrious, it is used as a slight. Experts who have never seen a horse are brought in to shoe horses. The pump is readjusted, so that it will pump in all seasons, whether or not there is water in the well. Milk from the cow suddenly becomes unsafe, and must be boiled before using. Commonsense, tolerance and wisdom fly out of the window. Villagers become too big for their boots, and you know what happens then!

Have you seen the Canterbury Bell Tree? Its correct name is Paulownia Imperialis; but that is rather a mouthful, and too standard for such a friendly visitor. I call it the Canterbury Bell Tree because now that it is in bloom the quickest way to describe its flowers is to imagine canterbury bells lifted out of their beds and tied on to the tips of its branches. The tree stands beside the giant flagpole at the northeastern entrance to the Legislative Buildings. Its sturdy branches mushroom out into a spreading, rounded framework; soon to be covered with a mass of dark green, odd-shaped leaves, not unlike those of a begonia grown to huge proportions. The Canterbury Bell Tree, according to the records, came to us from the northern slopes of India. Its home is within sight of the Himalayas, and it is now a long, long way from home. Nevertheless, Paulownia Imperialis appears to do well here. Bare all winter, the tree is a mass of bloom now, and for the balance of the fine weather will be a haven of welcome shade, with its queer, lop-sided leaves. We should know more about this visitor. It has an air of distinction. In the plant world, it is a personage. I know it only slightly; barely enough to raise my hat to in passing. I have the queer feeling that the tree is lonely; that it would welcome anyone who would talk to it once in a while in Hindustani, just for old times' sake. It is the very least we could do for a stranger.

The Forest Branch of the British Columbia Department of Lands took a long step towards enlisting the support of the public against preventable fire in the woods when it invented the "fire day." Fire days are days upon which the barometer is high, humidity low, and the brush is like tinder. The branch co-operates with weather bureaus to determine days on which there is a dangerous conjunction of fire hazards. When such a period is forecast, a warning is issued. The public is asked to take all reasonable precautions with camp and picnic fires, with smoldering cigarette stubs at the roadside, with matches discarded from traveling automobiles, with any source of flame that might start a forest fire. The largest forest fire may start from a single origin, and could be put out by a child, then. On a "fire day" the smallest fire is dangerous potentially, because the state of the air encourages its spreading, the underbrush is dry, and more often than not there is enough wind to carry sparks and set the woods burning in several places. So watch out for the "fire days." Even without measuring instruments or warnings you can tell a "fire day." It is the day upon which you have to blow three times to put out the flame of a match. Setting natural causes, such as lightning, aside, people carry fire into the woods with them. Study an occurrence map in any forestry office, and you will find a trail of red-headed pins along every travelled highway: up the banks of navigable rivers; at mountain resorts and picnic places, and wherever the outing fever takes humanity. Once man had to guard fire carefully to see that it did not go out, leaving him defenceless and foodless. Now,adays fire must be guarded even more carefully, to see that it does not spread and get out of hand. It is a community effort, too; something for everyone to think about.

Glancing Over Sport

I selected Fighting Fox to win the Preakness at Pimlico last Saturday. I understand that a search party was sent out to find the Fox when most of the other horses had checked in at the judges' stand. He was finally located lastly coming down the back stretch about thirty lengths behind Dauber. The $100,000 bid for motion picture rights to the Louis-Schmeling fight represents an all-time high. The Tunney-Heeney bout was previously tops as the pictures netted $60,000. You have got to credit the Victoria West soccer team for coming from behind to win. Badly beaten last Saturday the greenhorns turned on the pressure in the last few minutes, notched three goals, and won a 4-3 victory over Esquimalt. Steve Redgrave, baseball and softball umpire, falls in line and says that Joe Louis will beat Max Schmeling on the night of June 22. But Steve says he would like to see the German win just the same. Rumors have it that Lynn and Muzz Patrick and Doug Feden will be playing lacrosse here during the Summer. Well, why not, Bucko McDonald, of Detroit Red Wings, is playing for the Orillia Terriers. Under the new Dominion rules professional and amateurs are allowed to mingle.—J.D.

Real Loyalty

Bill Hook and Bill Huskins, two grand old men of soccer, who have been rumpus lines at football matches here for many years, were the recipients of special gifts at the Wednesday Football League banquet Friday evening at the Hudson's Bay dining-room. James Hall, manager of the Victoria "rep" eleven, in making the presentations, paid tribute to the veterans—they're both over sixty—and expressed the hope that they would be spared for many years to come. Both men expressed their thanks, and Mr. Hook went so far as to say that he had been connected with football for twenty-seven years, and was receiving his first award. All of which proves that good things come to those who wait.—S.T.

Likes Popeye

A police officer is a devout follower of Popeye and a firm believer that spinach produces "muskies." Not long ago he learned that one of his friends was in the "dog house" for committing an offence not condoned by his better half. He went to considerable trouble to secure a large bone. He neatly wrapped it up, wrote a suitable inscription on the paper, and placed it on his friend's desk. Then the practical joker departed to the nearest greengrocer's shop. He returned with an enormous bag containing five pounds of spinach, enough to help Popeye fight at least four sharks. The officer placed the bag in a cool corner until he was ready to go home and cook the spinach in a wash boiler. Friends of the man who received the dog bone found the bag. They took out the spinach and filled the bag with tree leaves from a vacant lot, leaving a few bits of the original contents on top. We have yet to hear what happened when he arrived home.—G.B.

The Meteorological Observatory, Gonzales Heights, Victoria, B.C.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of May 17, 1888)

Workmen will begin in a day or two to introduce water pipes into all portions of the Naval dockyard. A meter will be placed at the entrance gate, and the water distributed from this point. Hydrants will also be placed at convenient distances through the yards for fire protection purposes. Another pipe will lead to the jetty with the object of supplying the vessels with water.

M. Humber has the contract for erecting a brick building, adjoining the old Kwong Lee store, for A. Bossi. It will be two stories in height, with basement. It is stated that ex-Mayor Carey will shortly tear down the unsightly wooden structure at the foot of Cormorant Street, and erect substantial brick buildings in its stead.

Captain George J. Ainsworth and J. S. Baker, two of the promoters of the Kootenay Railway & Navigation Company, came by the Alaskan yesterday to organize the above company. It is the intention of this company to commence construction work very early in the summer, and it will be continued energetically until the route is open for the transportation of the ore from the newly discovered regions upon Kootenay Lake, and also from the old lead camp which formerly attracted so much attention in that district.

Roy Brown Retires

(An Appreciation)

Few announcements have so stirred Canadian newspapermen as the news that Roy W. Brown, editor-in-chief of The Vancouver Daily Province, had severed his connection with that journal. It is difficult to think of The Province without "R.B." at his desk peering through thick lenses at proof sheets, or tapping out an article with two fingers on his typewriter. It is pleasant, however, to contemplate Mr. Brown enjoying himself on his fine Lulu Island farm, or whipping his favorite fishing holes with a fly.

Mr. Brown retires while still a young and vigorous man. He was a boy when he joined the staff of The Province thirty-seven years ago—a long-limbed gangling youth, naturally shy and retiring in disposition, but already possessed of an amazing faculty of making friends and with a keenly-developed sense of news. He was first on the old News-Advertiser, and he and Sam Robb, a brilliant, red-headed Irish-Canadian, uncle of R. L. Maitland, K.C., covered police news together. The older man, who conceived an abiding affection for the youth, taught him much of his own technique. It was not long until Mr. Brown was gaining attention by his accuracy and fine writing. The Province was a small paper then, under direct and forceful supervision of its founder, Hon. W. C. Nichol. An energetic young man named Frank Burde was also on The News-Advertiser in the business office. Mr. Nichol induced these young men to transfer to The Province.

They grew up together in the service of the paper; Mr. Burde becoming president of the company, and Mr. Brown rising to the editorship-in-chief. It is no reflection upon the memory of that great publisher, Mr. Nichol, to say that the development of The Province from its precarious position as a weak junior in the Vancouver newspaper field to a recognized position as one of the foremost dailies in Canada was largely due to Messrs. Burde and Brown. They impressed upon every department of the paper their own personalities. Both were gifted with rare judgment in their respective fields and both possessed a happy facility for friendship.

Mr. Brown is possessed of a tireless energy, a vast understanding of human nature, a tender heart and ready sympathy, and a knowledge of public affairs and men that is unique. His memory is remarkable, and his subordinates always knew that they could draw upon that encyclopedic memory when all other sources of ready reference failed. One newspaper reporter who was one The Province staff for sixteen years remarked: "I only saw Mr. Brown look in a telephone directory twice, and that was to find numbers that he had never previously had occasion to use."

Thoroughly acquainted with every section of British Columbia, his aim was to make The Province provincial-wide in its appeal. His inflexible policy in respect of news was that it must be clean and be accurate; that no story should appear that might offend the sensibilities of any reader. Not only did Mr. Brown acquire an intimate knowledge of the problems of British Columbia, but his grasp of national and international affairs is exceptional. During the years of the war his contributions to the cause of the Allies were of such great value that he was decorated with the Red Cross of the White Eagle of Serbia in recognition of his work in aid of the Serbian Red Cross.

Every movement for the improvement of social conditions in British Columbia found in Mr. Brown a warm supporter, while those who were in trouble always knew that in him they had a friend.

It is impossible to think that Mr. Brown will entirely divorce himself from newspaper work. He is too energetic and too much interested in every phase of life to do that at his time of life, for "R.B." is still a young man as executives are measured.—B.A.M.

The time used is Pacific standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 6 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight, and is intended to distinguish high water from low water.

Where blanks occur in the table the tide is at the time of day during two consecutive tidal periods without change.

The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of low water.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the tide gauge, drydock, and at 8 feet to the height of high tide.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

WON RACE ON
FAILING WINDYawl Minena First Home in Hein Bank Race for Virtue Cup

Crossing the line on a fast failing wind, which died as her nearest competitor was entering the bay, the forty-two-foot yawl Minena, owned by H. T. Barnes, won the first of the series of three races for the Virtue Cup, open to auxiliary cruisers, held by the Royal Victoria Yacht Club on Sunday.

Three other boats took part in the race: P. C. Holden's cutter Richmond II, Captain R. S. Johnson's Chirra (racing for the first time since her conversion from a sloop to yawl rig), and T. G. and R. C. Denny's yawl West Wind.

Richmond II was first over the starting line at 10:30 a.m., and smartly out-maneuvred Minena when the latter tried to pass to starboard, holding Minena under her lee all the way down the bay and eventually forcing her to cross under her stern. Outside the bay, all four boats set different courses, Richmond II and West Wind standing far out to get the advantage of the flooding tide, while Minena took a chance on a more direct course for the Hein Bank buoy.

MISSED THE BUOY

The breeze lightened about the middle of the afternoon when Minena, Richmond II and West Wind converged on the mark, and it was soon obvious that the first-named could not round the buoy to windward. Richmond II and West Wind appeared to be in a better position, but when the breeze dropped to a whisper, they too failed to make the buoy.

West Wind promptly dropped her hook in a handy position to await a wind, and Richmond II soon followed suit, Minena losing ground through delaying anchoring.

First under way when the breeze came, West Wind rounded the buoy ahead of Richmond II, with Minena fifteen minutes behind. Chirra was far away to the westward. Close-hauled on the port tack, the three boats started for home, with Minena overhauling the first two. Minena was to windward of Richmond II at this stage, but the latter, making to windward beautifully under her new gaff topsail, out-pointed Minena and forced her to pass to leeward.

SMALL MARGIN WIN

Minena drew ahead rapidly as the wind freshened during the evening, and after making two tacks to enter Cadboro Bay, crossed the line at about 5:10 p.m., twenty minutes before the time limit, and about half an hour ahead of Richmond II. The breeze failed completely as Richmond II approached the bay, and she was 1 hour, 36 minutes, 46 seconds behind Minena in crossing the line, but took second place to Minena by only a small margin on the corrected time.

Chirra came in under power, and West Wind, completely becalmed outside, held on as long as possible in the hope of taking third place, but eventually was forced to turn on her motor, and picked up her mooring in the early hours of the morning.

FISHERMAN WENT ON WILD CRUISE

When Taken Into Custody, Marine
Joy Rider Claimed Police Had No Jurisdiction

ABERDEEN, Wash., May 16 (P).—Cecil Ellis, fishing boat operator, was held on charges of drunkenness today following a wild cruise in the Chehalis River yesterday.

Disdaining to wait for a railroad bridge to open, he cracked into the low span, snapping off the poles and gear of his craft, almost rammed a second bridge, bumped into a barge, where "two passengers" jumped off, and finally grounded on a mud flat.

Police rowed to the scene and took him in custody, despite his claim that they had "no jurisdiction on the high seas."

HE WAS AFRAID TO CROSS A STREET

Lost His Nerve After
12 Months' Agony

Suffering from acute rheumatism in both his knee joints—treated in hospital twice without result—so unnerved that he was afraid to cross a street—how readily every rheumatic sufferer will sympathize with this man! Read what he says:

"For 12 months I suffered pain and misery with acute rheumatism in both my knees. Twice I was treated in hospital—but it was no use. I could not walk up or down stairs. I was afraid to cross the street, for I had lost all confidence in myself. Fourteen days ago, I started taking Kruschen Salt, and already I am a new man. I can walk with a smart step, go up and downstairs with ease, and cross the street with complete confidence. My rheumatism is getting better every day."

In a good many cases, rheumatism cannot resist the action of Kruschen Salt, which dissolves the painful crystals of uric acid, and the cause of those aches and pains—and assist the kidneys to eliminate this poison through the natural channels. (Adv.)

SWEEPED INTO
MAIN RIVER

Dramatic Rescue Witnessed
When Launch Went Over Dam

YAKIMA, Wash., May 16 (P).—Hundreds of spectators lined the banks of the Yakima River to witness the dramatic rescue of George Hirahara, thirty-three, his son Frank and Takano Toda, both twelve. They were saved from death last night after the motor on their boat quit and they were swept over the Yakima River diversion dam near Union Gap.

For more than two hours they clung to driftwood in the middle of the river as flood water tore at them and Mrs. Hirahara, who had not gone on the water with them, knelt on the riverbank and prayed.

A. N. Cyr, an experienced lumber man, piloted the boat which went out to rescue the trio. His son, Ted, and Al Spicer, in another boat, kept Cyr's craft from being swept down the river while the rescue was effected. Hirahara's accident came when the motor of his boat suddenly failed and he was swept from the backwater where he had been cruising into the main stream, near flood stage. The boat sank as the occupants clutched the driftwood.

HATCH COVERS WERE SIGHTED

Wreckage Identified by Ss.
Dalhanna as of Freighter
Anglo-Australian

LONDON, May 16 (P).—Owners of the missing British freighter, Anglo-Australian, informed Lloyd's today the ship's hatch covers had been sighted off Panama by the steamship Dalhanna, which arrived at Cristobal yesterday. The Anglo-Australian, missing for two months with a crew of thirty-eight, officially has been given up for lost. She was bound for Vancouver.

Discovery of the hatch covers bearing the vessel's name, however, failed to clear up one of the modern mysteries of the sea.

An internal explosion of a water-spout was considered most likely cause of the apparent disaster, although some shipping men suggest she might have been a victim of a "pirate" submarine ranging far from Spanish waters.

(The Anglo-Australian, 5,456 tons, left Cardiff, Wales, March 8, for Vancouver, was last sighted, off Fayal, The Azores, March 14, and was listed as "missing" May 11.)

The freighter vanished on the main trade route, apparently in calm weather and without sending a single message from her two powerful wireless sets.

VANCOUVER SHIPPING

VANCOUVER, May 16 (P).—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Campbell, Kobe, Japan, arrived here today en route to New York to visit a son. Mr. Campbell is seventy-seven and his wife sixty-six years old.

Mr. Campbell, a retired official of Dodwell & Company, was born in Hakodate, Japan. The couple plan to fly from here to New York.

Four halibut boats sold 47,200 pounds of fish on the fish exchange here today. Olympia No. 2 sold 2,500 pounds of chicken at 5.1 cents; 7,500 pounds of medium at 7 cents; and 700 pounds of large at 6 cents. Ribac sold 4,000 pounds of chicken at 6 cents; 10,000 pounds of medium at 7 cents; and 2,000 pounds of large at 6 cents. Kingfisher No. 1 sold 7,000 pounds of chicken at 5.5 cents and 4,000 pounds of medium at 7 cents; and Joan sold 3,000 pounds of chicken at 5.5 cents; 4,500 pounds of medium at 7 cents; and 200 pounds of large at 6 cents.

NEEDS SOME READY CASH

Matter of Fifty Dollars or
So Keeps Family From Sailing Home

TORONTO, May 16 (P).—Only a lack of $50 or so is keeping Philip Osmond, unemployed Toronto carpenter, from completing the schooner which would carry him and his crew of four sons and a daughter back to their native Newfoundland.

After ten months, during which his wife died, Osmond finally has the craft down to the water's edge from the garage where he and his sons built it.

He isn't quite sure of his second-hand auxiliary engine, for which he paid $5. It will need patching, anyway. He'll need a propeller, too, at a cost of $6. The cheapest sail he can get for the thirty-one-foot two-master, he figures, will cost about $20.

Osmond hopes that when he gets under way, the voyage to Catalina, Newfoundland, will take no more than fifteen days.

Thomas Chestnut, twenty-eight-year-old hotel clerk, a passenger, was reported in a serious condition. He suffered a possible skull fracture and severe internal injuries.

Waide Dickinson, thirty-two, a licensed pilot, was injured less seriously.

Pilot Dickinson, blamed a National Guard airplane on the field for his crash. National Guard officials denied the plane interfered with the landing.

The new service, which will give Victoria air connection with the Mainland, is backed by a group of local businessmen headed by W. J. Dyson. The aim is to give air travelers a daily two-trip schedule each way between Island and Mainland. The plane will leave Esquimalt at 9 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. and Vancouver at 9:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

CRACKSMEN IN LOCAL BAKERY

Escape From McGavin
Premises Without Loot
After Blowing Safe

Safecrackers who attempted to blast open a safe with nitro-glycerine at the McGavin Bakeries, Ltd., 2120 Quadra Street, escaped without loot when disturbed at their work early on Sunday morning.

Called to the premises at 3:45 o'clock, Chief J. A. McLellan and Detective-Inspector J. H. Rogers found the safe lying on a sack of flour with the door buckled by a charge of powerful explosive. The absence of finger prints led them to believe it had been the work of experts.

Harry O'Reilly, an employee of the bakery, apparently disturbed the burglars at work when making a tour of inspection. They made their exit by smashing glass in the front door of the building.

Two men passing the bakery on their way home from work heard a crash and told police they saw a man disappear into Central Park about 3:30 o'clock in the morning.

Beware of advertisements which are mere catch-pennies! Alas! How many of you have wasted your money beguiled by wonderful stories all about far-distant lands... and gratitude... and late husbands? Is it not better to consult someone one is able to see and talk to, living right here in one's own home town rather than to venture to send money to some unknown person from whom there is no redress—except through law—which is costly—had therefore never resorted to. DICKENS GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Annual Session of Fellowship Re-elects All of Last Year's Officers

HENRY L. FENSHAM

As an expression of confidence, all last year's officers of the Victoria Branch of the Dickens Fellowship were re-elected by acclamation at the annual meeting held last night in the Port Street clubrooms.

The officers are: President, Henry L. Fensham; first vice-president, A. W. Arup; second vice-president, Miss G. G. Fox; honorary secretary, Mrs. Joan B. Kennedy; honorary treasurer, Harry Wood; and executive committee, C. C. Pemberton, Mrs. M. M. Beasley, Mrs. G. R. Thompson, George H. Henderson and W. L. Llewellyn. G. R. Thompson was elected auditor, and the executive was instructed to select an honorary vice-president.

REPORTS RECEIVED

Reports of the year's activities were received from Mrs. Kennedy, Mr. Wood and from the president and C. C. Pemberton, as chairman of the general committee. It was decided to hold the annual summer outing at the home of Mrs. M. Whitfield, "Glenwood," Hollywood Road, on June 25.

At the conclusion of business, Mr. Arup, who is seventy-eight years old, gave a series of reminiscences of Dickens, past and present. Mr. Arup was born in London and recalled the death and funeral service of the author and had visited a number of the places frequented by Dickens. He was warmly thanked for his contribution to the evening's entertainment.

BURGLARS SECURE CASH AND PENCILS

Thieves who forcibly entered premises of the Victoria Box & Paper, Ltd., 1202 Store Street, escaped with cash, stamps, pencils and stationery on Sunday evening. The burglary was discovered by Constable Charles Webb at 6:15 o'clock.

Detective P. W. Richards found that iron doors at the rear of the premises had been pried off. A hammer lying nearby was taken to the police station to be examined for fingerprints.

The loot included three gross pencils; $10 in stamps and cash; 200 exercise books, and a large bottle of mullage. Several of the books and a number of broken pencils were found under a platform at the rear of the premises.

TO BREAK THE ICE

One way is probably as good as any other to break the ice and thereby smooth a rough road or simplify a complicated situation.

It took Shakespeare, however, to have one man marry an older daughter because in this way only was the younger released to him whose heart's desire she was.

The episode is entertainingly set forth in "The Taming of the Shrew," I-2, in which Tranio, addressing Petruchio, offers:

"If it be so, sir, that you are the man
Must stand up all, and me amongst
The rest."

And if you break the ice, and do this feat—
Achieve the elder and set the younger free
For our access—whose hap shall be to have her
Will not so gracefully be to be ingrate."

This is one of the earliest recorded uses of the expression and undoubtedly popularized it.

City and District

Archivist on Tour — Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial librarian and archivist, left last evening for the Mainland, on his way to Kamloops and the Okanagan district, on a collecting tour for the archives.

Is Remanded — When he appeared in the city police court yesterday morning in answer to a charge of assault, Clarence Carlow was granted a further remand until today.

Breaks Pole — An automobile which police allege was driven by William S. Dempster, 1440 Brien Avenue, struck and broke off a city electric light pole near Grosvenor Road early on Sunday morning.

Suit Stolen — James Waters, 2530 Fernwood Road, informed police yesterday morning some person stole a suit he left in the doorway of a store at Gladstone Avenue and Fernwood Road. It was to have been called for by a cleaner.

Grant Is Voted — The Esquimalt council, at its meeting last evening, voted the sum of $25 to the Victoria celebrations committee as a grant towards the May 24, July 1 and Navy Week entertainment programmes.

To Attend Appeals — Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., was on the Mainland yesterday, to attend sittings of the Court of Appeal, opening in Vancouver today. The province is concerned in an appeal in a Chinese case originating in the lower courts.

Burning of Slashings — The burning of slashings in the vicinity of Kapoor, the smoke of which could clearly be seen throughout many parts of the city on Sunday, attracted the attention of many Victorians, who thought it might be an uncontrolled forest fire.

In Dewdney Test — Dr. J. D. Hunter, Conservative member for Victoria, left last night to take part in the Dewdney by-election campaign. He will speak today, Wednesday and Thursday at meetings to be held at Haney, Mission and Harrison.

Car Recovered — An automobile stolen from L. Mayhew, 2551 Beach Drive, outside the First United Church on Sunday night, was found in a field off Rose Street yesterday morning by Constable George Clayards. The engine was still warm. A fender and the exhaust pipe were found damaged.

Pin Game Licences — The Esquimalt council last night decided to write the City of Victoria requesting a copy of its by-law, or such amendment, regarding the licensing of pin games, following a discussion on the advisability of bringing the amusements under municipal control.

Tax Penalties — Esquimalt's annual percentage addition by-law, fixing tax penalties on unpaid taxes of 5 per cent at July 1 and an additional 5 per cent on October 1, was given second reading by the council last evening. Final reading will be given the by-law next Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

Enter Store — Thieves who entered the premises of Smith, Davidson and Wright, Ltd., 533 Yates Street, by breaking a window on Sunday night left by a side door without loot. Police were informed at 5:50 o'clock by a man in an adjacent shop that he heard a sound like glass being broken.

Enter Campaign — Joining Premier Pattullo, who spoke at Mission yesterday, Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir and Hon. W. J. Aseltine crossed to the Mainland this week to take part in the Dewdney by-election. Hon. George S. Pearson will leave tonight for the scene, and will speak on Wednesday.

Await Federal Plans — The Provincial Government was deferring final decision on road policies for the year, yesterday, pending receipt of advice from Ottawa as to Federal plans this season. From a road construction standpoint, already the season is far advanced, with snow off the ground in all parts of the province.

Seeking Information — Acting upon information by his solicitor that he did not think the municipality could license merchants operating from outside its boundaries, and making deliveries in the district, unless the same measure applied to Esquimalt store owners, the Esquimalt Council decided last night to write Saanich and ask for a copy of its by-law regarding a similar situation.

To Be Hosts to Aged — Frank W. Taylor, president of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association, yesterday announced that a change had been made in the date for the members of the association to convey the inmates of the Aged Women's and the Aged Men's Homes to Butchart's Gardens. RECOGNITION

Sir,—Re your editorial "Recognition," and the "de facto" and "de jure" part of it, permit a few remarks for your readers to consider. Will justice have to give way in future to political expediency? The wind seems to be in the East at present! The London Weekly Times of March 10, 1938, published an account of the suit of Haile Selassie vs. Cable & Wireless, Ltd. The "Judge of the Chancery Division reserved judgment." This suit had been adjourned on December 10, last. The judge had requested the parties to ascertain from the Foreign Office if the British Government recognized the Italian Government as the de facto Government of Ethiopia, and (2) "does the British Government recognize the Italian Government as the de facto Government of virtually the whole of Ethiopia?"

Mr. Andrew Clark, for Haile Selassie, claimed there was a distinction between the whole, and "virtually" the whole. That his client had not been deprived of his right to appoint an ambassador, and that right was the test of sovereignty. The reply to counsel for Selassie from the Foreign Office, in short, was that the British Government recognized the Italian Government as the de facto Government of the parts they control, and according to information received they are now in control of virtually the whole of Ethiopia.

This suit was for £10,613 11s 3d, due to Haile Selassie as Sovereign of Ethiopia previous to the decree made by the King of Italy annexing Ethiopia (May 5, 1936). The defendant company admits that "sum is owing, but does not admit that the plaintiff is entitled to it." The Italian Government were apprehensive as to their position if the action was decided against them. Their counsel, Mr. Wynn Parry, K.C., asked for a stay of execution in case his clients desired to appeal if the action was decided against them.

Recent events show which way the wind is blowing for Haile Selassie or Mussolini? Note Poland and Belgium's recognition previous to a League of Nations Council decision. E. J. TALBOT, 2548 Blanshard Street, Victoria, B.C., March 12, 1938.

Many A Man

Has escaped a nervous breakdown

It is now becoming generally known, by word of mouth from one person to another, that scores of nervous, worried business men attribute their escape from nervous collapse to the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Business cares and worries of recent years have made men old before their time. Almost daily you read of prominent men dropping out in the very prime of life.

Others have survived, because they learned in time of a way to restore nerve force to the body. As a result, weak, halting vital organs have again assumed their natural functions. Rest and sleep have become possible, and mind and body have been restored to normal. If you find yourself slipping ask your friends about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. In almost every family there is some one who has profited by use of this modern restorative.

Mothers' Homcraft Classes to Be Held—Board Will Entertain Visitor From India Next Month—Conference at Tacoma Is Discussed

The regular meeting of the Y.W.C.A. board of directors was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. I. Macaskill, Helmsden Road, who after the meeting entertained the board, members of all committees and volunteer leaders to tea.

Plans are under way for the annual Y.W.C.A. membership tea which will be held on Wednesday, May 25. The Annex will also hold its annual guest tea, but are planning it for June this year, in the hope that it can be held in the garden.

PLAN RECEPTION
The general secretary announced the approaching visit in June of Miss Evelyn Gedge, formerly of the University Settlement in Bombay, who recently taught in a mission school in Rumania, and is now just completing a visit to Australia and New Zealand, on her way to Canada. During her stay in Victoria, the Y.W.C.A. will plan a reception for her.

Preliminary plans were also discussed for the forthcoming Western National Y.W.C.A. Conference to be held in Spokane at Thanksgiving.

a unique opportunity for world fellowship, as representatives will attend from twenty-three of the fifty-two countries where the Y.W.C.A. works.

SECRETARY'S REPORT
The general secretary's report reviewed the work of the local Y.W.C.A. for the past month, emphasizing particularly the successful regional conference which had been held at the beginning of the month, when Victoria had been the hostess city to Vancouver Y.W.C.A. girls and staff for a two-day conference. Her report also mentioned the new mothers' homcraft classes, which will be held at the Y.W.C.A. under the auspices of five of the social agencies of the city, which, as their name implies, will aim to help mothers of families on low incomes to budget, plan, and prepare more nourishing and economical meals.

The meeting adjourned for a most delightful tea, at which Mrs. H. M. Cassidy and Mrs. Paterson presided over the tea tables, followed by a walk around Mrs. Macaskill's beautiful garden.

New Members Are Welcomed by Mrs. R. S. Logan

An impressive service of admission and consecration, was conducted by Mrs. R. S. Logan, Dominion president of the King's Daughters, in the King's Daughters' Rest Rooms last evening, about seventy members from local circles and ten members from Duncan attending the gathering. Ten new members were admitted.

Mrs. William Russell, district president, was in the chair, introducing Mrs. Logan and extending to her a welcome on behalf of the order in Victoria. Mrs. A. M. Perry introduced Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Dalrymple, members of the order who are visiting here from Montreal, and Miss Leonora Dibb, Duncan, introduced her fellow members from Up-Island.

After the service and the presentation of the silver cross pins, the emblem of the order, Mrs. Logan gave a short talk on the work of circles in Canada, the United States and other parts of the world. She expressed her great pleasure in being able to announce that the first junior circle had just been formed in Nicaragua.

As the result of an appeal for assistance for relief of war sufferers in Shanghai, the sum of $213 had been forwarded by the King's Daughters of Canada, and this sum was the equivalent of $724 in China. The United States King's Daughters had sent $107.

FREE PRESS
The freedom of the press is the main expression of a free democracy. Mrs. Price, Vancouver, said in an address prepared for delivery before the federation's convention.

"We have only to note the growing enslavement of the press of Europe to stand on guard for that freedom on this continent."

STAND FIRM
Mrs. Price urged that Canada and the United States stand firm for the recognition of freedom of expression, adding: "The freedom of the Anglo-Saxon people is bound up in the freedom of the press. It is the most potent instrument for liberty and world peace today."

Mrs. Price's subject was "Publicity, a Peace-Making Factor." Asking how publicity could be used as an instrument for world peace, Mrs. Price stated publications printed what their readers liked to read.

"And this is where we enter the picture," she said. "Each one of us can contribute to the moulding of public opinion."

GREATEST CAUSE
"Let us help build up the attitude of international understanding and friendliness toward all nations."

"Let us devote a part of club programmes to this greatest cause in the world today. Publicize your activities in your local papers. Work for national and international projects that promote good will."

"I know of no better publicity copy for this work than our monuments of peace that are erected on our boundary line."

C.G.I.T. NOTES

FIRST UNITED

The First United C.G.I.T. held its annual Mother and Daughter banquet in the Sunday school hall recently. Nearly 200 mothers, daughters and guests were seated about the six beautifully decorated tables. Miss Lauretta McCall, C.G.I.T. leader, gave the welcoming address and introduced the guests. They were: Mrs. Nellie McClung (guest speaker), Mrs. Winstrom, Professor and Mrs. E. S. Parr, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, Mr. Neil Perry, Mrs. A. S. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Peaker, Mr. R. N. Higgins, Miss Kay Gillis, Mr. E. Jones, Miss Mary Loudon, Mrs. H. H. Jones, Mrs. W. C. Pye, Miss Beveridge, Mrs. Harris and Annie McLean. The C.G.I.T. president, Miss McCall, then explained that the theme in which the tables were decorated was Seeing God in the Beautiful. The groups had chosen to represent beauty in personality, music, nature on land and sea, and art. During the lively singing, led by Miss Charlotte Crawford, a collection was taken. Peggy Pepper proposed a toast to the mothers, which was responded to by Mrs. E. S. Parr, and a toast to the church was proposed by Inez Jeune, and responded to by Neil Perry. Mrs. R. W. Mayhew presented two large boxes of chocolates as prizes for the best decorated tables to Miss Brown's group, whose theme was music, and Miss Jean Munro's group, whose theme was beauty in the sea. Mrs. W. H. Wilson, accompanied by Mr. G. H. Peaker, sang. Miss McCall introduced Mrs. McClung, who gave an address on "Mother and Daughter Relationships." Mrs. McCall expressed thanks to all who had assisted in the preparation of the banquet. Several of the C.G.I.T. girls, led by Miss Jean Wilson, took part in the short vespers service, which brought out the thought of a Christian personality. This was conducted around an imitation camp fire, while overhead hung a large silver star with the word "Mother" inscribed on it.

Canadian companies are ready to help the British Government. This was set forth to the mission today, and it is understood that members were satisfied in this regard. In no case do the twelve Canadian plants duplicate the manufacture of machines, a circumstance that makes for co-operation among them. At the same time Canadian companies generally possess rights, under ordinary commercial agreements, to various standards and patents of both British and United States concerns.

New Shirt Frock Is Becoming to Everyone

Full Length House Coat . . . Same Pattern

If you are size 14 or 46, you can wear this smart new cotton print shirt type frock. It has the soft look from the waistline up, that's so enviably becoming. The buttoned-down-front closing gives a long line that's flattering to everyone. The flaring skirt accentuates a tiny waist and has a marvelously dimpling effect for the mature figure. A rayon sheer in grey with white chalk stripes is terribly attractive for town and summer week-end vacations. With same pattern, you can make a house coat with full flared skirt. You'll like the cool V neck, especially if you make it of any of the gay popular cottons in solid colors or in peasant striped print with multicolored flowers, dotted Swiss, chiffon dotted voile print, etc. The small price to make both the dress and the house coat won't strain your clothes allowance.

Style No. 3391 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years; 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46-inch bust. Send fifteen cents (15c), (coin is preferred) for pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

Home to many railroad men, the $1 a day-and-up hotel was situated opposite the Terminal Station in downtown Atlanta. An old structure of a type now banned by Atlanta fire regulations the building had been remodelled in recent years.

FIRE ESCAPES USELESS

The fire choked off fire escapes and stairs a few seconds after it caught.

William Oscar Webster, a Columbus, Ga., railroad engineer, jumped from a fourth-story window. His body tumbled across the street. He was dead when rescuers reached him. One victim was found dead on a second floor ledge of the hotel court, where he had struck in a leap for safety.

Some were burned to death and others suffocated. Many of the bodies were horribly mangled in the collapse of floors and steel work.

Firemen told of finding one group, apparently a family.

A woman was dead in a rocking chair, a little girl knelt by the bed and a man and a little boy lay stretched across it.

Firemen said they were investigating a theory that a heating system boiler explosion might have caused the fire.

SAYS BUSINESS NOT OVERDONE

E. H. Hanley, Toronto, Tells Victoria Life Underwriters Of Opportunities

"Life insurance is far from overdone," was the opinion expressed at the luncheon meeting of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association in Terry's yesterday, by E. H. Hanley, supervisor of agencies of the North American Life Insurance Company, with headquarters in Toronto.

Mr. Hanley referred to the changed conditions that were facing the world in all lines that life insurance was overdue. He assured the association that there were openings for the men who had the vision to see and the ambition to pursue their chosen line of business.

INVESTMENT INSURANCE

In this connection, he referred to the opportunities of following up the writing of insurance on key men in business concerns, where at a cost of fifty cents a day insurance might be secured for the family in case of the death of such officer. There was also the insurance that was of great importance to the lives of women as well as men. Investment insurance was too often overlooked by the insurance men. In this respect there was an immense field, Mr. Hanley said.

Again the speaker pointed to the fact that the small insurer was a most important factor in the business done. The great majority of insurance bought was not for the very large amounts, but for the modest amounts. Too often sellers of insurance aimed at the record-making amount, declared the speaker.

PAYS COMPLIMENT

Mr. Hanley paid a compliment to the insurance men of Vancouver Island, stating that it was recognized at the head offices that the best business in Canada was coming from Vancouver Island. He praised the good spirit that was shown by the members of the association here and wished them every success.

The speaker was introduced by James W. Hudson, who referred to the splendid record of Mr. Hanley overseas and his good work in his chosen field, which he regaled on his return. As one of the big producers of business, he had won well-merited promotion to the head office.

George Tyson, the sole life member of the association, moved the thanks of the association for the address given.

Frank W. Taylor, of the Montreal Life, the president, urged upon the members that an effort be made to increase the membership of the association. While out of sixty-four associations in Canada, during the present year only eleven were ahead of Victoria, he said there was an opening for a number of increases to be made in the membership.

NANAIMO FIRES FANNED BY WIND

One Dwelling Destroyed and Another Badly Damaged by Flames—Garage Burned

NANAIMO, May 16.—High winds all day Sunday fanned three fires in Nanaimo and district. The Robert Wilkinson home on the Five Acre Lots went up in flames early in the morning, soon after the owner noticed smoke coming from the attic as he worked in his garden. He roused his wife and five children, who were asleep. He had cooked breakfast for his son at 5 a.m., and not long after the boy had left for work the blaze was discovered. Only two beds and two dressers were saved.

At noon the fire brigade brought under control a fire that gutted the kitchen of Mrs. Fred Busby's residence, Franklin Street, before it spread to the two-story section of the house. Approximately $600 worth of damage was done.

While A. W. Courtney, Wallace Street, was motoring with his family, fire of unknown origin destroyed a garage at the rear of his residence.

ALAS!

Some day, says a reformer, the rapacious landlord will get what is coming to him. In the meantime he will continue to get what is coming to us.

VANCOUVER, May 16.—Charles Saphyon and Sydney Kearns were none the worse today for a ducking in English Bay yesterday when their sailing canoe capsized during a heavy wind storm on English Bay.

They were pulled from the water by Harry Cline and Frank Fraser in the dinghy Kelpie, after clinging to a buoy moored nearby for some minutes.

CHAPTER XVIII

Sylvia heard the last stroke of twelve die away. There was a tall old clock against the end wall of the corridor which struck with such a ringing sound that even the air still seemed to tingle. There was a tremor now, and she waited for it to pass, because it frightened her a little. Everything frightened her a little tonight.

When the air was still again she opened a big mahogany wardrobe and took out a black satin cloak. She was still wearing the crepe dress which she had worn for dinner. She didn't very often wear black, but Francis liked it better than anything else, and she wanted to please him. She had taken the papers out of the safe—the night before. No one else could have done it.

Francis never forgot his keys or left them about like other people did. But it had been quite easy for her to take them from under his pillow, and open the safe, and put them back again. She had found the papers at once, a bundle of letters marked Zero, so it was quite true what Mr. Zero had said about the letters belonging to him, and of course Francis oughtn't to keep letters that belonged to someone else, but she did feel that perhaps she ought to be a little extra nice to him tonight. And the black dress would be quite good for meeting Mr. Zero, in too. It wouldn't show any marks, and if she put on

I'M SO HAPPY FOR YOU—BE SURE NOT TO DESERT OUR OLD FRIEND AGAIN!

MY BRIDE HAS THE MOST KISSABLE SKIN IN THE WORLD. HOW DO YOU KEEP IT THAT WAY? WITH REGULAR USE OF LIFEBOUY!

NEXT to freshness, there's nothing so irresistible as a clear, fine skin . . . To keep your complexion glowingly young, "baby" it regularly with Lifebovy gentle, thorough lather. That same special purifying ingredient in the latter which stops "B.O." also makes Lifebovy milder— "Patch" tests on the skins of hundreds of women prove it's over 20% milder than many so-called "beauty soaps" and "baby soaps."

Warning: Warmer weather increases the danger of "B.O." So bathe regularly with Lifebovy and be safe!

"The bidding:

East South West North

Pass 1 ♥ Pass 2 NT

Pass 3 ♥ Pass 4 NT

Pass 5 NT Pass 6 ♥

"After the smoke had cleared away and while the erstwhile defenders were exchanging gleeful grins over their score that probably would be a top, North and South got into a ferocious argument.

North contended that if South had had any sense he would have passed to the four no trump bid, even though admittedly North and South were in the four-five no trump convention. South claimed that partnership understanding and adherence to conventions made a five no trump response mandatory, that he was merely obeying orders, as conveyed by North. What is the answer?

"You're truly,

"J. D. B. Anniston, Aia."

I agree with South that a conventional four no trump bid allows the responder no latitude, that he must either respond with five no trump, bid an ace, or sign off, according to his own holding. Thus, technically speaking, South was correct. All the same, however, if I were playing with a partner who made, namely, two no trump, and then four no trump, I probably would refuse to respond because I would know that my partner had made a grave error in one of his two bids. Because there is no such bidding as North delivered in this hand! Two no trump is a strong bid in response to an opening suit bid of one, but still is limited in its scope. It is a game force but it is a slam-try only if the original bidder can take constructive action. Since South's rebid over two no trump was only three hearts, it was utterly illogical for North then to jump to four no trump. As a matter of fact, North's only correct bid over three hearts was four hearts. There was no sense in persisting with no trump, despite the 4-3-3-3 distribution.

Any just verdict would attach the blame for the terrible result to North. But I reiterate, if I had been South I would have been certain that my partner's bidding was illogical and, hence, unsound. Therefore, I would have "backed out of the picture" at the earliest possible moment.

As a matter of fact, even four hearts would have required excellent play. Presumably West would open the diamond king and declarer should allow it to hold. A diamond continuation would be won with the ace and two rounds of trumps would disclose the fact that East had a sure trick. Declarer then should ruff dummy's losing diamond, cash the three spades then lead the ace and a low club. East would be unable to unblock. It would do him no good to throw the king on the ace since he still would have to win the second club with the jack. After cashing the heart queen he would have to lead either a spade or diamond, thus giving declarer a ruff and a discard.

WAKE UP LIKE A CAVE MAN

Feel Full of Life—No More Tired, Dull, Heavy Mornings

Keep your liver healthy and you'll feel great every morning. When you wake up feeling "rotten" your liver is out of order. Your liver clears the blood of poisons, separates the nourishing part of your food from the waste. Supplies energy to muscles, stimulates glands—gives out life, the body's life-giving, happy element, liberty and initiative to work properly. A new bowel movement isn't enough. Fruit-A-Tives made from fruits and herbs, will strengthen and build up your liver like nothing else will. You'll be amazed how well you are every morning. Try Fruit-A-Tives. All drug stores.

FRUIT-A-TIVES

LIVER TABLETS

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 17 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon; from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

This will be a good day to remember, "you cannot eat your cake and have it, too." The money you spend this day you might need tomorrow. Do not expect too much from your friends, for they are likely to have little time to spare from their personal affairs. Make it a point to remember where you put things, for conditions are conducive to mislaying and losing a large variety of articles. Keep in mind that friendship, at the best, is frequently a gamble, and only that companionship which has been subjected to numerous tests, can, as a rule, be relied upon when good will, sympathy and a ready response to a requirement is urgently needed. Unfortunately a good deal of excellent advice will go unheeded this day, and it will be only through experience that lessons are going to be learned. It will be much easier to make promises, than to fulfill them, so think twice before making any. Married and engaged couples, and those who feel that they have a right to be optimistic about their matrimonial hopes, will display wisdom if they refrain from jumping to any hasty conclusion.

If a woman and May 17 is your birthday, you may go to extremes in many ways and things. You probably, on occasions, do things with a startling amount of thoroughness. You are apt to be very quick in both thought and movements. You should be a convincing talker, with the gift of turning your conversations with good-natured wit or biting sarcasm, as the occasion warrants. Your judgment, as a rule, can be depended upon, and possessing an unusual amount of tenacity, you should be a decided success in business. As a lecturer, teacher, actress, artist, business woman or sales agent you might find your time fully occupied, and your bank account an enviable one. Marriage appears to be the most promising medium for contentment, prosperity and loving devotion.

The child born on May 17, has usually an animated expression that wins it many friends. Generally full of pep it keeps the household enlivened. As this youngster grows older it should develop a forceful, as well as pleasing personality.

If a man and May 17 is his natal day, you seldom harbor malice, having, apparently, a most forgiving spirit. You will hardly include the word failure in your vocabulary, for you have backbone enough to fight the hardest when things look the darkest. As a salesman, promoter, agriculturalist, engineer, inventor, author, actor, artist, musician, lawyer or doctor you ought to be able to overcome any obstacle that is in the way to success.

PHILADELPHIA TRIMS GIANTS IN NATIONAL, 12-3

Corinthians Beat Lethbridge Team After Close Game

Strong Offensive in Second Half Brings Touring Footballers Through to 4-2 Victory in Alberta
—Score Is One-All at the Interval—
Len Bradbury Scores Two Goals

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., May 16.—Held at bay for the greater part of the game by a stubborn Lethbridge defence, touring Corinthians, touring English soccer team, shook loose for a pair of goals in the final minutes to defeat Lethbridge All-Stars, 4-2, here tonight.

The victory was Corinthians' sixtieth in their world tour to date. They have drawn eighteen and lost five. Since they came to Canada from the United States it was their third victory in six games. One game was tied and two lost of the four they played at the Pacific Coast before coming to the Prairies.

The score at half time was 1-1, but in the second half, with a north-east wind at their backs, Corinthians kept up a steady attack that finally cracked the Lethbridge barrier.

Len Bradbury, smart halfback, led the Corinthian scorers with a goal in each half. Billy Knight, Lethbridge's outstanding centre half, duplicated the feat in scoring both All-Stars' goals. Bert Reid and J. Braithwaite, forwards, rounded out the score for the visitors.

LINE-UPS

Corinthians—Cyril Longman; Pat Clark, R. Manning; Eddy Martin, Bill Whittaker, Ken Wright; Len Bradbury, Johnny Miller, John Sherwood, Bert Reid, J. Braithwaite. Substitute: J. W. Pearce.

Lethbridge—Bob Dunlop; George Anderson, A. Donaldson; Jim Webster, Ted Radley, W. Clelland; Dave Watson, Jim Campbell, W. Knight, G. Sumner, J. Allison. Substitutes: J. Laskie, J. Sloan, G. Wilson.

Referee, Fred Bendall; linesmen, A. Gardner and W. Anderson.

Cumberland Wins Over Galahads in Cup-Tie Game, 3-2

NANAIMO, May 16.—Nanaimo Galahads were eliminated from the Province Cup soccer series here on Sunday, when Cumberland Rangers beat them by three goals to two in an overtime game. The score was tied at two each at the end of the regular period, Ty Conti scoring the winning counter early in the first period of overtime.

Turns in Card of 79 to Win Qualifying Round Honors at Gorge Vale Golf Club—Hugo Allen and Freddy Painter Next

Playing steadily around the greens, Walter Newcombe captured the eighteen-hole medal tied Sunday as play opened in the men's championship of the Gorge Vale Golf Club. Newcombe was the only competitor in the record field able to break 90, firing a 79, which is considered good as the greens on the back nine are extremely tricky.

George Cartwright, Jake Sangster and Dick Cox stroked their way to 85's to qualify easily. A MacDowall was the "B" class medalist with a card of 91.

Phillies Drive Hal Schumacher From Mound in First Two Frames Under Heavy Barrage of Hits—Bees Defeat Dodgers—Tigers Down Senators and Indians Beat Athletics

By The Canadian Press

The Phillies, who hadn't played a ball game since last Tuesday, and the Giants, who hadn't played since last Wednesday, met in Philadelphia's Baker Bowl Monday and when the afternoon was over the Phils were on the long end of a 12-3 score and the Giants were wishing they had been rained out again.

It was one of two games scheduled in the National League for the day. Boston Bees continued to click at the bat, and with the six-hit pitching of Danny MacFayden, downed Brooklyn, 5-4.

In the American League Detroit's Tigers went on a batting rampage and hammered out a 13-7 victory over Washington Senators in their series opener. Cleveland Indians took a 4-3 ten-inning struggle from Philadelphia Athletics to complete the abbreviated programme.

Phillies belted "prince" Hal Schumacher, making his first appearance since May 7, for four runs in the first and knocked him out of the box with two more in the second.

In the fifth they clipped young Bill Lohrman for another cluster of four, then finished it off with two off Hy Vandenberg in the sixth.

FOURTH DEFEAT

It was the New Yorkers' fourth defeat in twenty-two games, and the Phils fifth victory in twenty.

Boston's win was their final game of the Brooklyn series. With two out in the seventh the Bees went to work and collected three runs off Fred Flissimmons for the decision.

It was MacFayden's second victory of the season.

Rudy York and Charlie Gehring hit home runs for the Tigers, York's blow coming with the bases loaded in the sixth. Lewis hit a four-ply wallop for the Senators.

The Indians tied Athletics 3-3 in the seventh inning, then went on to win in the tenth on successive doubles by Odell Hale and Jeff Heath.

With the Yankees idle, the victory shoved Cleveland into undisputed second place.

Connie Mack had two recruits in the game—Dick Siebert, from Columbus, who batted .500, and Sam Chapman, all-American football star from the University of California, who was hitless and had one error.

A GOOD WORD

An old Scotsman was famous for speaking kindly. No sheep was so black that she could not discover one saving quality in it. One day a gossiping neighbor lost patience with her, and said angrily: "Wumman, ye'll hae a guid word for the deevil himself."

"Ah, weel," came the reply, "he's a very industrious body."

Last Inning Attacks Decide Ball Tussles

Colwood Wood and Emsco, Undefeated Clubs in "B" Section Race, Score Winning Runs in Final Frames—Young Liberals Win

Driving over the winning runs in the last inning, Colwood Wood and Emsco, leading softball nines in the "B" section pennant chase, met with their stiffest opposition of their early season campaigns yesterday evening. However, they managed to finish on the right end of the score and keep their winning streak intact.

Trailing by one run as they went to bat in the last half of the ninth frame of their encounter with the Esquimalt Athletic Club at Beacon Hill, Emsco drove over the equalizer and the deciding marker with one man down and pulled out of a real ball game with a 9-8 triumph.

The boys from the dockyard village opened with a four-run attack in the initial frame and appeared destined to be the first club to defeat the Emscos. They stayed in front until the final inning, despite a number of spirited rallies by their opponents.

Colwood Wood, co-holders with Emsco of the top berth in the "B" section race for the punt, turned back the Navy, 6-4, at Admirals Road, after an interesting encounter. Leading 4-3 as their opponents went in to bat in the first of the ninth, sailors lost a tough ball game by costly boots in the outer grounds.

Jones, young Navy hurler, turned in a great performance on the hillcock, letting the woodmen down with six widely scattered bingles and sending fifteen back to the dug-out via the strikeout route. Billsborough, opposing twirler, was nicked for ten safeties and breezed four.

LIFE'S LIKE THAT

By Fred Neher

"Listen, wise guy! I was playing this game before you were born!"

Jane Dixon Says:

A WOMAN, DECLARING SHE IS DEEPLY IN LOVE, HESITATES ABOUT MARRYING A MAN BECAUSE SHE DOESN'T LIKE THE IDEA OF LIVING WITH HIS TWO CHILDREN

The more capable we are of loving, the less exacting we are in our demands upon the loved ones.

It is not written that love should come to each and every one of us all tied up in a beautiful beribboned package exactly as we would have it.

The truly loving soul accepts the heart of the gift and sets about turning handicaps into assets.

My dear Jane Dixon: I'm deeply in love with a man who, I am sure, cares for me with all his being. He can't understand why I hesitate because of his two children, a boy 12, a girl 10. Their mother died five years ago.

Somehow I can't bring myself to accept his family. I like the children well enough—they are nicely trained, and have cheerful, kindly dispositions—but I'm afraid I couldn't be the same about sharing the man I love with them, even if he is their father.

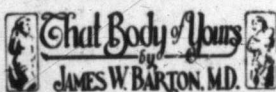

I've been hoping he would suggest they go to live with their maternal grandmother, but he is a fond parent and seems to think their place is with him.

Being a stepmother doesn't appeal to me, and still I love this man so much I can't give him up. I wish I could decide. Can't you help me?—Vida.

Comment: Love must be a pretty small and mean thing if it can't include the two motherless children of the man who means so much to you. For your own happiness, for his, and for the happiness of the children, either take them to your heart completely or refuse the offer of marriage. The selfishness that would separate a father from the son and daughter who love and need him does not promise a successful married state.

If you can't give as much or more to marriage than you hope to get from it you are a mighty poor bargain. Has it ever occurred to you how much you could help the man you love, what pride you could take in doing your part to bring his little ones to clean, strong, manhood and womanhood? You are facing an opportunity to serve love, young woman, and this is a privilege, not a handicap.

CHANGING TO THE WARM WEATHER DIET

With the warmer weather it is only natural that we should be thinking about our food as we remember that three-fourths of the food we eat is to maintain the normal or animal heat in the body. The other 1/4 is meant to be used for the physical work we do. Thus with the weather warm, keeping the body warm will not require quite as much food or fuel, but, as this point must never be forgotten, the body cannot keep itself warm, even in warm weather, without a plentiful supply of food.

Thus the proper diet in the warm weather is not so much the cutting down on the amount of food but making a change in the diet from the rich or fat foods needed in the cold weather to the "fresh" foods that begin to appear in the stores at this time—rhubarb, strawberries, leafy vegetables, and some of the southern-grown fruits and vegetables. Instead of the rich meats—pork, fat roast beef, mutton—lamb, chicken, eggs and sea foods should be eaten.

For housewives and others who have the planning of the meals it may be of some help to give a couple of menus for warm weather from

Dr. Jean Bogert's book, "Nutrition and Physical Fitness."

Menu No. 1

Breakfast—Oranges, scrambled eggs, bacon, corn muffins, coffee.
Luncheon—Creamed mushrooms, cauliflower au gratin, asparagus salad, fresh pineapple.
Dinner—Stuffed breast of veal, glazed baby onions, dandelion greens, browned potatoes, salad of chicory with radishes and ripe olives, fresh rhubarb pie, cheese.

Menu No. 2

Breakfast—Banana, shredded wheat biscuit, creamed chipped beef on toast, bran muffins, coffee.
Luncheon—Cheese souffle, new beets with tops, artichokes with drawn butter, lettuce salad, strawberry shortcake.
Dinner—Vegetable soup, roast leg of lamb, currant jelly, baked potatoes, creamed spinach, four greens salad (lettuce, endive, chicory, watercress), fresh pineapple sherbet, cake.

The thought then for the proper diet in warm weather is (a) to cut down slightly on amount of food eaten, (b) eat less of fat and starch foods, (c) eat more of the fresh fruits and vegetables as they become available and reasonable in price.

First Man—"Ha, ha, good joke, isn't it?"
Second Man—"Yes, the first time I heard it I laughed till the tears nearly filled my prism."

THREE ARE NOMINATED

Reeve W. A. Jones, Miss M. Osterhout, D. W. Strachan Contest By-Election

Three names were filed with electoral officers of the Province as official nominations closed in Dewdney riding at 1 p.m. yesterday, representing Conservative, Liberal and C.C.F. parties in the by-election to fill the vacant seat in the Nineteenth Legislature caused by the death of Dr. Frank Patterson.

Polling will follow on Friday at twenty-eight polling divisions, between eight in the morning and eight at night, with some 7,200 voters eligible to record their ballots.

The official nominations were confirmed at the Provincial Secretary's office, after receipt of a wire from Richard Isherwood, returning officer for the riding. They were, as follows: William Ayres Jones, Agassiz, druggist (Conservative); Minnie Mildred Osterhout, Vancouver, social worker (C.C.F.); and David William Strachan, Dewdney, farmer (Liberal).

NAMES BEFORE ELECTORS

Mr. Jones is the present reeve of Kent municipality, and a well-known druggist of Agassiz. Miss Osterhout has been prominent in Mainland C.C.F. circles for some time, and is a fluent platform speaker. Mr. Strachan sat in the Eighteenth Legislature as Liberal member for Dewdney, being defeated by the late Dr. Frank Patterson, former leader of the Conservative Opposition in the House.

With only three days of the by-election campaign left, all three parties pressed their drives in the riding yesterday. Half of the Provincial Cabinet were scheduled to speak in the area between now and Thursday evening, led by Premier Pattullo in person.

There will be an absentee poll, but it will be limited to those voting in one polling division who live in another, where both are within the riding. The absentee vote is expected to be slight.

LONG TIME TO WAIT

REGINA, May 16 (A.P.)—Voters in Cumberland and Athabasca, Saskatchewan's two far northern ridings, will cast their ballots July 23, it was announced here today. In the rest of the Province voting will be held June 8.

ASSAULT CHARGE HEARD BY COURT

Albert Smith and Arthur Hicks Remanded Until Today for Sentence

Charged in the city police court yesterday morning with unlawfully assaulting Constable Edwin Sturrock while engaged in the execution of his duty, Albert Smith and Arthur Hicks were remanded until this morning for sentence by Magistrate Henry C. Hall.

Both the accused pleaded guilty and elected for a speedy trial. The remand was suggested by Magistrate Hall in order that they might call character witnesses.

Constable Sturrock testified that his attention was drawn to a fight on Yates Street, west of Douglas Street, at 11:45 o'clock on the evening of May 14. He separated two men but was attacked. One man knocked his helmet off. He grappled with Hicks and saw Constable John Howe taking care of Smith.

Hicks used obscene language and had to be handcuffed before he was taken to the police station. Both men smelled of liquor, but were not drunk, Sturrock testified.

"How many bones have you in your body?"
"Two hundred and eight, sir."
"Wrong—you have 207, as I have told you before."
"But, sir, I swallowed a chicken bone at dinner," Moustique, Charleroi.
